Don't let your beauty burnout

4 key strategies that reduce stress and inspire self renewal

Do you push away stress by jumping on a recumbent bike? Does overwhelm cause you to overeat or drink too much? Burnout is a state of chronic stress that leads to health problems, and I'm here to help you do some damage control.

In this talk I'll be covering:

- How to show gratitude to yourself and accept your flaws
- Healthy activities that can help jumpstart your positivity
- Ways to slow down and simplify your life
- Tips for recharging your passions when stress takes over

Get the crush on clean beauty

How to deep cleanse your beauty routine with non-toxic products

Do you worry that your beauty products could be doing more harm than good? Once you start looking at the laundry list of chemicals that come in most cosmetics, it's easy to feel discouraged. Here's MY take on how to achieve clean beauty without breaking the bank.

We'll be going over:

- What to look out for when purchasing makeup products
- Best practices in using, cleaning, and storing your products
- Top toxic offenders and what they do to our health
- Ways to avoid using toxic chemicals in our day to day beauty routine

How to perform your own Beauty Rituals

The 4 simple Secrets of self care

Real beauty begins on the inside. Who doesn't feel overwhelmed with work and responsibilities? Often we give everything we have to others and have very little if anything for ourselves. Making time for self care is a necessary component to maintaining a healthy lifestyle amidst the stress of our daily lives.

In this talk, we'll cover:

- Face - skincare massage that provides anti aging benefits
- Body - Relaxation techniques to soothe the soul.
- Aromatherapy - Adding serenity in your environment.
- Hydrotherapy - Renewal and balance for total wellness.

Makeup for Camera and the Stage

Look great anywhere and be ready for your closeup on ZOOM

Are you on Zoom calls but using a selfie for your photo? Stop hiding! Everyone is working from home now and more than ever companies are using teleconferencing for business. I have worked with top celebrities and news anchors in my career as a TV makeup artist and I get them from the chair to the camera in 15 minutes.

You'll discover:

- Easy beauty for on camera teleconferencing
- Best looks for the stage
- Winning makeup that lasts
